John Mozzillo to serve expanding roster of clients at regional commercial real estate firm

June 22, 2016 – Marlton, NJ – Wolf Commercial Real Estate (WCRE) is pleased to announce the hiring of John Mozzillo, who will serve as Senior Associate and Director of Investment Sales. Mozzillo brings more than a decade of management and leadership experience to complement the skilled team at WCRE. John joins WCRE to help lead the growth of its Investment Services and Brokerage platform.

As Senior Associate & Director of Investment Sales, John will specialize in providing best-in-class acquisition, disposition and re-capitalization services to institutional and private clients, developers, lenders and special servicers. He will also be responsible for the sale and leasing of office, healthcare, retail and industrial properties throughout Southern New Jersey and the Greater Philadelphia region, as well as various advisory and consultative services.

John Mozzillo was most recently an associate at JLL, where he provided a variety of real estate services to investors, landlords and tenants, including leasing and investment analysis. He previously served in leadership and sales roles for a technology start up and in the corporate services sector, working closely with both Fortune 1000 corporations and privately held companies.

“Each new member of our team strengthens our ability to meet specific needs and build even more successful relationships with our clients and community,” said Jason Wolf, founder and managing principal of WCRE. “John brings a valuable background as an entrepreneur, leader, and real estate professional that will allow WCRE to serve its clients in new ways.”

In addition to his professional accomplishments, Mozzillo exemplifies WCRE’s core values, especially commitment to the community. He currently serves as a member of AQUA Corps, a regional non-profit that creates positive change in individuals from vulnerable populations and in the lives of volunteers who assist them.
