Fourth Annual WCRE Celebrity Charity Hockey Game Raises $78,000

The Fourth Annual WCRE Charity Hockey Game was a huge success, raising $78,000 to be shared by several charitable causes.

September 17, 2019 – The Fourth Annual WCRE Celebrity Charity Hockey Event, which was played at the Flyers Skate Zone in Voorhees this past Saturday, is the brainchild of Philadelphia Flyer legend and WCRE director of strategic relationships Brian Propp. Blending community fun with sports fantasy camp, WCRE brought several Flyers Alumni fan favorites back to the ice for a game alongside thirty area business leaders. Over its four years, the WCRE Foundation has successfully raised $315,000 from its community fundraising efforts which also includes its annual golf event.

Joining the WCRE Foundation for this year's event were former Flyers Brian Propp, John LeClair, Riley Cote, Doug Crossman, Andre Faust and Todd Fedoruk. Philadelphia Sports Hall of Fame inductee Lou Nolan, public address announcer of the Philadelphia Flyers, served as emcee. This year Kerry Fraser served as referee. Fraser was a referee in the NHL for 30 seasons, including officiating 12 different Stanley Cup Finals series.

All proceeds from the event will be shared among Bancroft, the American Cancer Society, CARES Institute at Rowan Medicine, the Jewish Federation of Southern New Jersey, Philadelphia Flyers Alumni Association, Samaritan Healthcare and Hospice and Susan G. Komen-Philadelphia.

Additionally, each of these organizations benefits from WCRE's long-standing practice of donating a portion of its proceeds from transactions to an area charity. Learn more about this program at <http://wolfcree.com/community-commitment/>.

"This event gets better every year. We had over 100 sponsors, more spectators, more raffle prizes, a $10,000 puck shot contest, and most importantly, more money going to our charitable partners," said Jason M. Wolf, managing principal of WCRE. "The WCRE team thanks our friends, neighbors, and business associates for their involvement in our efforts to improve the lives of others in the community."
